Overview and Target Audience

This conference is intended to present the most current research and application for clinical nutrition practice areas for the care of infants and children and will be of interest to staff at Children's Colorado, community physicians, nurses, dietitians and other multidisciplinary healthcare providers.

Educational Objectives

Upon completion of this conference, participants should be able to:

- Discuss the management and multidisciplinary team approach for pediatric obesity and its comorbidities
- Review indications, candidacy criteria, types and outcomes of pediatric bariatric surgery
- Review the evolving role of pharmacological treatment in pediatric obesity
- Explain different dietary approaches and behavioral strategies in pediatric obesity
- Identify community resources to utilize when working with pediatric obesity

Continuing Education Credit

Upon completion of the evaluation, a certificate of attendance will be provided.

Medical: Children's Hospital Colorado is accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education to provide continuing medical education for physicians.

Children's Hospital Colorado designates this live activity for a maximum of 6.5 AMA PRA Category 1 Credits™. Physicians should only claim credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.

Children's Hospital Colorado Dietetic Internship

The Dietetic Internship Program on the Anschutz Medical Campus offers dietetic interns a unique opportunity to learn from outstanding nutrition educators and providers about how to support the care of pediatric and adult patients. Our interns experience hands-on learning in the company of some of the top researchers and clinicians in the country, while serving patients at two remarkable hospitals, Children's Hospital Colorado and University of Colorado Hospital. The full-time, 42-week program prepares dietetic interns for entry-level positions as Registered Dietitian Nutritionists and to become leaders in clinical nutrition, nutrition education and nutrition research for children, adults and families.

The 6th class of Dietetic Interns is currently training at Children's Colorado, University of Colorado Hospital and other facilities on the Anschutz Medical Campus. For more information about Children's Colorado Dietetic Internship program, please contact Amy Ladd, Internship Coordinator at Amy.Ladd@childrenscolorado.org.
